BETTER PICKEREL TOO

ALBANY, Aug. 7 .- A campaign for beteer fishing, which will transform two private ponds into fine trout lakes and greatly improve the pickerel fishing in a third private lake and in several of the public waters, is on in Sullivan county. The work is being conducted under the supervision of the Conservation Commission, and at the joint expense of the Hartwood Club, the Fallsburg Fishing and Boating Club and Ambrose Monell Hartwood Lake, of thirty acres, owned by the Hartwood Club, and Monell Lake, of fifty acres, owned by Mr. Monell, are being drained and cleaned of coarse fish preparatory to stocking with trout. They are ideal trout waters, fed by good trout brooks, and originally contained nothing but the gamy speckled fighters. So long ago that the time is not remembered, however, and long before the advent of scientific fish culture, pickerel, perch, sunfish, bullheads and suckers were introduced by enterprising natives of the lower Catskills, on whom an exclusive diet of trout was palling. Their misdirected efforts are now being undone at considerable cost.

misdirected efforts are now being undone at considerable cost.

Permission to clean the lakes was granted by the Conservation Commiscion on condition that the fish taken out should not be thrown away and that the pickerel, which give fine sport in many other waters, be transferred for cross breeding. The redistribution of the pickerel is in charge of J. E. Scott of Middletown, president of the Fallsburg Fishing and Boating Club. They are being put into Fallsburg Lake, the property of the company at Fallsburg, and into public waters now inhabited by pickerel which cannot be well cleaned

of these coarser fish.

It is believed that the introduction of this fresh stock will materially improve the pickerel fishing within a short time. The lakes were first stocked with but a few specimens, and the small size of those now caught leads to the belief that the stock has run out and that the new strain from the Hartwood and Monell strain from the Hartwood and Monell lakes will result in large sized fish.

A deep channel, low enough to drain the lake down to a small rivulet carrying only the water from the inlet, was dug at the end of Hartwood Lake. This artificial outlet was screened to prevent the scape of the fish, and another screen was placed in the inlet to keep them strong running up.

According to the indictment drawn up by Assistant United States Attorney Frank M. Roosa, the defendants in the past six years have pocketed profits of more than $50,000. In addition to eight defendants whose Turtles for the Aquarium.

As the water receded word spread among the summer residents of Sullivan county that something was doing and that the bottom of the lake might yield unheard of monsters. From Dr. Townsend of the New York Aquarium came a request that any large snapping tura request that any large snapping tur-ties discovered be crated and shipped to ties discovered be crated and shipped to him. He is planning also to get pickerel from one of the lakes for the Aquarium tanks. On the day appointed for netting to begin automobiles were parked in the open spaces about the lake and on the banks were arrayed summer visitors from all the surrounding country.

Before this grand stand appeared Wesley Decker of Middletown, professional in such operations, with a corps of assistants. They were spick and span, and one of them wore new white overalls. The bottom of the lake lay before them, with the water but a narrow stream in the middle. Conservation Commissioner, that work of this sort can be effectively carried out in many other places where the lakes are not too large and that fish and game associations in all parts of the State can materially improve their local fishing in public waters by cleaning operations financed by local subscription. Subsequent stocking can then be done by the State hatcheries. The assistance and advice of the experts of the Conservation Commission, he has announced, are at the disposal of associations for this purpose.

In Vermont the Fish and Game Commissioner is working out scientific plans of treatment for all of the waters of the State. With money realized from fishing licenses these plans will be carried out.
